Ahern Company for the amount of $558,800. On Roll Call: Ayes: Ald. Whitaker, Daugherty, Gelhard, Wiese, Goldberg, and Shaw. Noes: None. Absent: None. Motion carried unanimously.

III. File No

Communication from City Treasurer, re Property Tax Refund—Parcel #160-9007, 6151 N. Baker Road, U.S. Bank NA.

U.S. Bank NA filed an objection to the 2015 manufacturing real estate assessment of 6151 N. Baker Road, with the State of Wisconsin State Board of Assessors. This reviewing authority did not complete its work prior to the time set for establishing the 2015 tax rate. As a result, the tax bill was based upon the contested value in accordance with Wis. Stats. U.S. Bank NA paid the entire tax bill when due, even though the assessment was later reduced. The tax amount to be refunded equal a total of $8,455.69. The portion that would be charged back to the other taxing jurisdictions will be approximately $6,309.30 and the City's portion will be approximately $2,146.39.

Motion was made by Ald. Goldberg, seconded by Ald. Whitaker, to approve the resolution authorizing refund of taxes due to delayed determination made by the Wisconsin state board of assessors and authorizing charge back to the other taxing jurisdictions. Ayes: Ald. Whitaker, Daugherty, Gelhard, Goldberg, Wiese and Shaw. Noes: None. Absent: None. Motion carried unanimously.

The parade would start at 4:30 p.m. and continue until 5:30 p.m. The route proposed would include Daphne Road, Jean Nicolet Road, and the wider Nicolet campus grounds. The Fire Department and Police Department have no concerns regarding either of these events.

Motion was made by Ald. Gelhard, seconded by Ald. Daugherty, to approve the Nicolet High School Homecoming Bonfire to be held on Sunday, October 2, 2016 from 6:15 p.m. to 7:15 p.m. and the Homecoming Parade to be held on Friday, October 7, 2016 from 4:30

Mayor Kennedy stated in the past the City of Glendale went on record twice in favor of the repair of the Estabrook Dam in 1997 and 2008. In 2014, the City of Glendale's position was to be neutral. Members of the Common Council questioned the authority the City of Glendale has over the Estabrook Dam. Attorney Fuchs advised that the City of Glendale has no authority over the Estabrook Dam and it is up to Milwaukee County to decide.

Milwaukee County Chairman Theodore Lipscomb updated the Council on the county board's position and financial needs on repairing the Estabrook Dam. Teig Whaley-Smith, a representative of the Milwaukee County Executive's Office, updated the Council on the County Executive's position and related financial information for removing the Estabrook Dam. Dear Mayor and Common Council, During this time of transition of Johnson Controls, we want to underscore our commitment to the City of Glendale. The City of Glendale is our home – we do so much more than work here - we shop here, we live here, we bike here, we volunteer here, our children go to school here, and we couldn't be more pleased to be a part of this diverse community. Johnson Controls is proud to call the City of Glendale our hometown.

Our commitment to Glendale is coming up on 50 years, and we're looking forward to many more years - we have been in Glendale since 1967, when this building was Globe Union which Johnson Controls acquired in 1978. Like a parent, we've proudly watched this city grow and have had the good fortune to grow alongside it. We are committed to stay and continue to grow a bright future together.

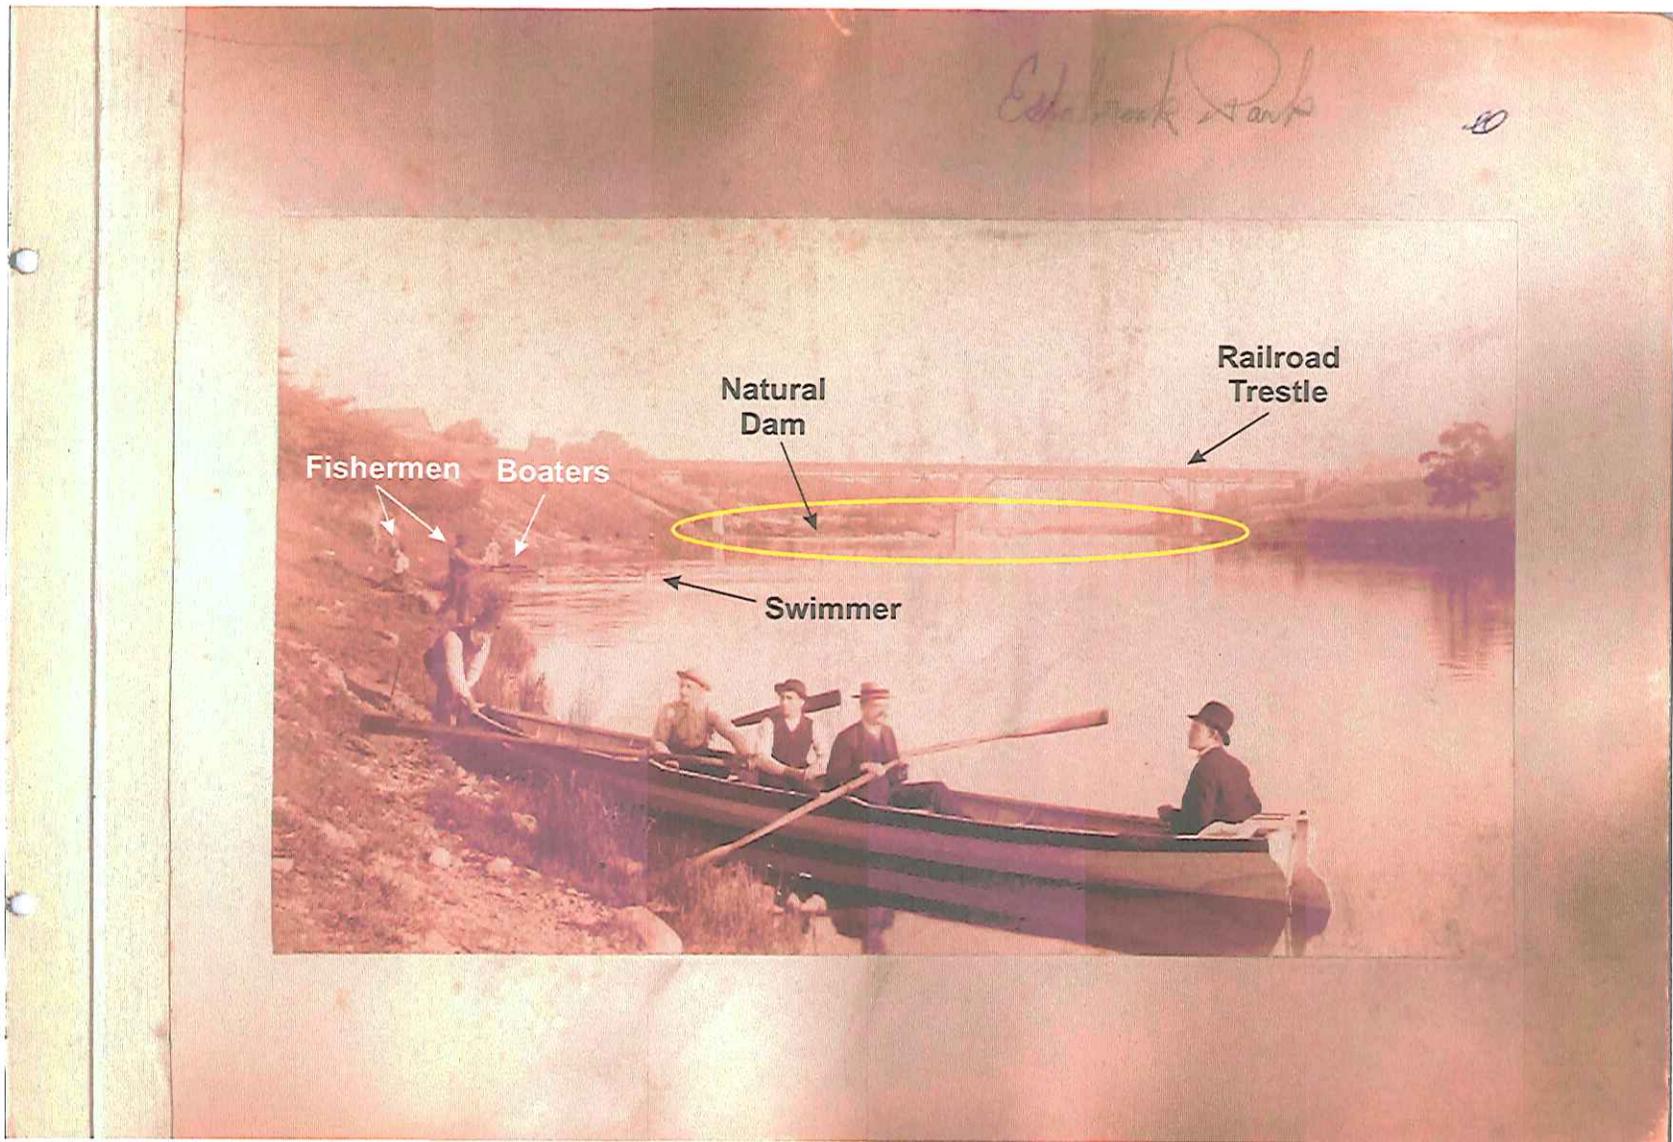

In the last year, a few of the things we've worked together on include the new exit from the Oak Leaf Trail to our Glendale campus, Glendale's Fourth of July celebration, Nicolet's FEAR robotics team, and sponsorship of the stage and amphitheater at the future Richard Maslowski Community Park.

We look forward to continuing to build a comfortable, safe and sustainable world, starting right here in Glendale.

Warm regards,

This photo, taken in 1892 by F. Bischoff, shows the completely natural condition of the Milwaukee River. The location was noted by F. Bischoff as Estabrook Park. The camera was positioned about ¼ mile south of the current location of the dam. Note the background fishing activities and swimmers, and the light line under the trestle, which is the top of the natural limestone dam, creating the natural lake.

Participating Communities

The Summer Reading Program this summer was all about fitness. We used the collaborative summer reading program's theme and slogans of "On your Mark, Get Set, Read!" for our children's program and "Get in the Game: READ!" for our teen program.

Our Summer Reading Program is open to all children, ranging from infants to teenagers entering the twelfth grade. Our participants range in age from 0-18 years old. We offer three program options based on the participant's age.

For our youngest participants, ages 0-35 months, we offer an early literacy program. This program is designed to develop the six early literacy skills and reinforce the five early literacy practices. Children and their caregivers are asked to complete 25 early literacy activities together. Children earn prizes as they progress through the program.

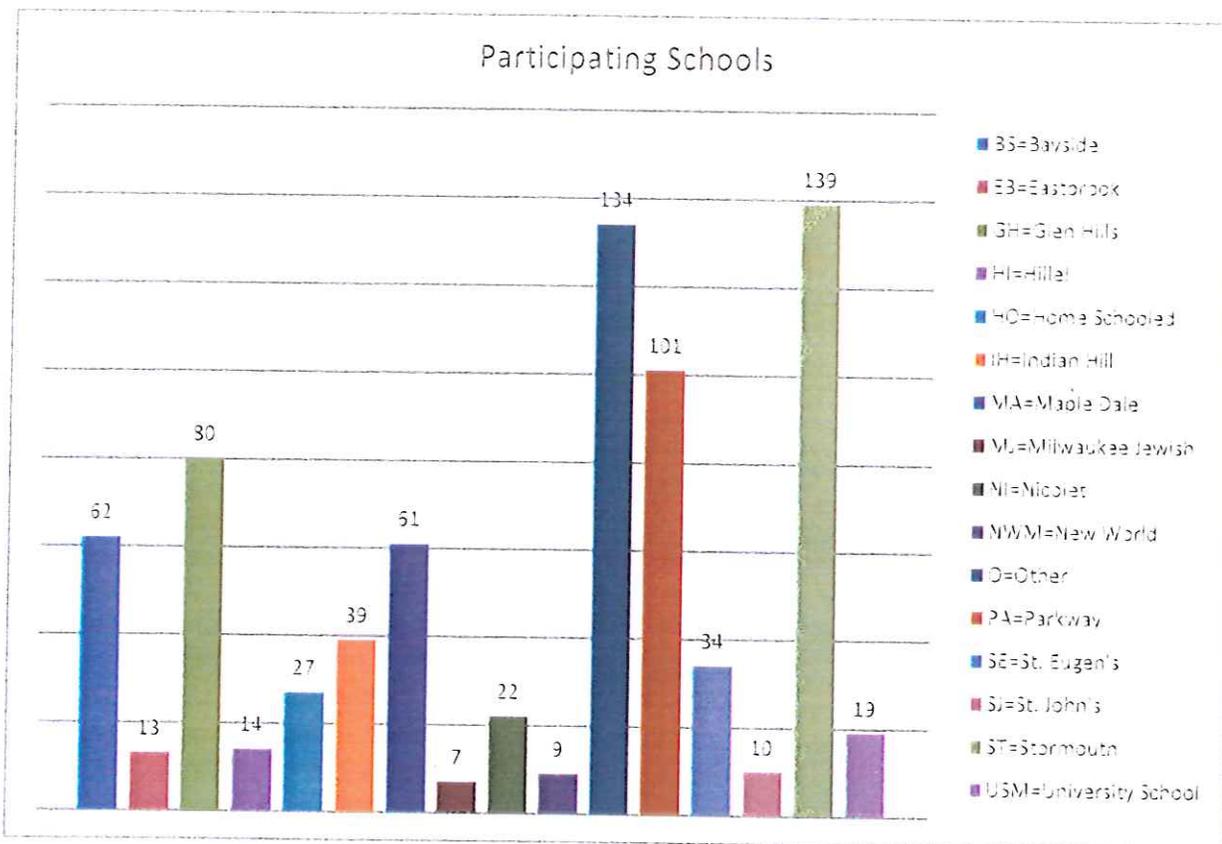

Our second reading program is open to children ages 3 years old up to children entering the 6th grade. This is our most popular reading program and has the highest rate of participation. Children have to read ten hours over the course of the summer. Participants receive prizes for every hour they complete. Studies show that children who read 15 minutes a day over the summer have less learning loss when they return to school in the fall compared to children who do not read over the summer. We set the ten hour reading goal for children based on this research.

The third program we offer over the summer is the teen program. This program is open to students in 6th -12th grade. The goals set for this program are based on pages read. Participants receive prizes after reading 1,000 and 2,000 pages. Students entering the sixth grade have the option to choose from the children's reading program or the teen reading program.

We introduced a new program this year called Book Bingo. Book Bingo is a weekly program we offered to children 3 years old – 6th grade. Each week we released a Book Bingo Worksheet that had 25 different activities listed in a Bingo card format. Participants had to complete any combination of activities that resulted in a Bingo score to earn a prize for that week's Book Bingo. We made a new Bingo worksheet available every Friday during our Summer Reading Program and participants had until the following Saturday to turn in their completed Bingo card for a prize. Bingo worksheets were available in the library and on our website. Our Book Bingo program received a lot of positive feedback from customers and was a huge hit all summer long. Our Book Bingo program replaced the Summer Reading Challenge we offered in previous years. We plan on bringing this program back next summer with a few minor adjustments.

Other changes we made to the program this year include visiting schools in May to promote our summer reading program and offering evening family programs. School visits and evening programs were both offered in the past, but not in recent years. Additionally, we added raffle prizes to the children's program. Children earned raffle tickets for their summer reading. There were four prizes children had a chance to win.

School Visits

In May and June of this year the Youth Services Staff visited elementary and middle schools serving Bayside, Fox Point, Glendale, and River Hills to promote our Summer Reading Program. At each school visit we discussed the benefits of participating in a summer reading program, explained our reading program, promoted the programs we offer during the summer, and read a book to the students. Our goal in conducting these school visits was to generate excitement about our summer reading program among students and increase participation in our program. Another benefit of conducting these school visits was developing stronger working relationships with the schools and school librarians in the communities we serve.

We visited a total of five schools and saw approximately 500 students. In addition to the schools we visited in person, we also distributed promotional materials at four other schools. At the schools we did not visit personally, the school librarians promoted our program to their students on our behalf. We promoted our summer reading program at

Indian Hill Elementary, Maple Dale Elementary, St. Eugene Catholic School, Stormonth Elementary, Parkway Elementary, Bayside Middle, Glen Hills Middle, and Nicolet High.

Prizes and Incentives

We once again had fantastic incentives. A big chunk of these came from teaming up with Milwaukee Public Library to obtain coupons from a variety of local attractions, including State Fair, Discovery World, and the Milwaukee Public Museum. Our local businesses and attractions also generously donated to our program. Breadsmith and Schlitz Audubon Nature Center are North Shore favorites. In addition, we were once again able to fill our Treasure Chest with a variety of toys for kids to choose from. New incentives this year included a free root beer float from Sprecher's Pub, day pass to Country Springs Water Park, and free admission to a Milwaukee Bucks basketball game.

Listed below are the 2016 Summer Reading Prizes for the children's program. Children earned a set of prizes for every hour read. If a child was able to read for 10 hours, he or she received every prize. Children also earned raffle tickets for a chance to win grand prizes at the end of the summer. We offered three raffle prizes for the early literacy program and four raffle prizes for the children's program. The early literacy raffle prizes included a target gift card, a storybook collection and finger puppets, and a puzzle and finger puppets. The children's raffle prizes included an outdoor summer prize pack, a harry potter prize pack, a mini-maker kit, and a family prize pack of books and a gift card.

During our summer reading program we offered a variety of programs and classes for all different ages. In total, 1257 people attended the 69 programs we offered this summer. The number of programs we offered and program attendance increased from last year's summer reading program.

We kicked off the start of summer with the "Library Olympics". Library Olympians were sent on a scavenger hunt all through the library. During this program we also offered participants a chance to have their face painted and to decorate a summer reading t-shirt.

The family programs were held on Tuesday afternoons and Thursday evenings this summer. Our patrons watched performances from Sunset Playhouse, were amazed by Rick Allen's magic, learned from dancers from the Milwaukee Ballet, and saw live animals up close thanks to David Stokes and the Schlitz Audubon Nature Center!

Our storytime programs were very successful this summer. We offered a variety of storytime and early literacy programs for children of all ages. New to our summer program was a storytime for children in 4K-2nd grade called "Give a Child a Story". We've offered this storytime during the school year as an after school activity for children in early elementary school, but never during our summer program.

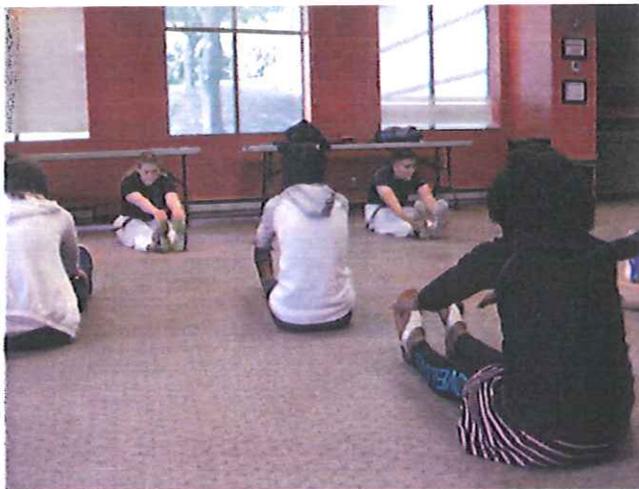

Our 1st through 3rd grade book club continued into the summer. This year the kids read Lulu and the Brontosaurus by Judith Viorst, Mercy Watson to the Rescue by Kate DiCamillo, and Dinosaurs Before Dark by Mary Pope Osborne. Besides discussing the books, kids also complete a craft and enjoy a snack.

The 4th through 6th grade book club also returned this summer for three sessions. We read Mr. Lemoncello's Library Olympics by Chris Grabenstein, The Great Greene Heist by Varian Johnson, and The Westing Game by Ellen Raskin. The book club met at a new time this year, on Wednesdays from 4:00-4:45pm.

Movies were shown in the Community Room on Friday afternoons. Each week we played a newer movie release and gave our patrons the opportunity to get out of the heat for a while. We averaged 21 people each week at our showings, which is up from last year.

We hosted three LEGO Block Parties this summer. LEGO builders of all ages met on Wednesday afternoons in our Community Room for an hour of free designing, building, and creating with LEGOs. This program has always been incredibly popular.

To connect with this year's theme and slogans, we offered children and teens a chance to learn about and practice alternative sports. For younger children we offered Zumba and Yoga at the library. Tweens and Teens learned about Taekwondo and Fencing. The fencing program generated a lot of excitement and was very well attended.

For the fourth year we offered tween and teen specific programs. For these age groups we offered a series of programs on Monday afternoons.

These programs all featured a maker project. The three projects we offered this summer were Design a Mug, Bleach T-Shirts, and Decorate the Library: Stained Glass Windows

Other programs for teens were Writer's Workshop and Minute to Win It. During Writer's Workshop teens were invited to bring in a writing project they were already working on or start something new. New for teens this summer were two Minute to Win It programs. Each program featured six challenges. Teens had one minute to complete each challenge. Some of the challenges teens had to complete were keeping three balloons afloat, picking up and moving marshmallows using a straw, and rolling an Oreo from the forehead to the mouth without using any hands.

Our summer reading program concluded with two prize parties. We announced the winners of our children's and early literacy summer reading raffle during our "End of Summer Celebration." We served cake, read a story, made a craft, played games and offered door prizes to everyone who attended. At our "Teen Prize Party" we announced the winners of our teen raffle. The grand prize was a Kindle Fire HD8. We raffled off 32 additional prizes, including gift cards, candy, books, movies, and posters. We served pizza, cookies, and made candy sushi. Lastly, everyone who attended picked out a book and coupons to local businesses. Both of these programs were very well attended.

We are already beginning to plan activities for next year's summer reading program. The theme of next year's program is architecture, building, and construction. The slogan is "Build a Better World!"

Thanks to our sponsor, the Friends of the North Shore Library, for helping make the summer a success!
